Presentation by Dr. Alfred C. Ingersoll of Report, entitled
"Transit Technology As of June 1969," by the Transit
Technology Review Board of Southern California Rapid Transit District

At the request of President Bill, General Manager Nelson introduced the members of the Transit Technology Review Board present at the meeting, as follows:

"It is a particular pleasure for me to be able to introduce this presentation today.

Last January, realizing the need to commence the process of continual re-evaluation and updating of our information on transit technology, I asked three gentlemen from three of our well-known institutions of higher learning--each very well-known and respected in academic as well as professional circles for his interest in and knowledge of transportation--to join with three of our own staff in this process--as a service to their community.

They very kindly consented, and after a period of several months during which they have spent many hours listening to and questioning the proponents of various mass transportation concepts, and after many hours of deliberation as a Board, they are here today to report to you on their findings.

It must be realized that their report is not a final report, but rather, in view of the accelerating rate of effort being expended both here and abroad toward the development of new mass transit technology--it must be considered more of an "interim" report.

The District will continue to monitor all transit technological developments so that it will maintain an "up-to-date" position.

It is proposed to reconvene this Transit Technology Review Board from time to time as warranted by transportation technology developments and we appreciate the Technology Review Board's willingness to continue its service on that basis.

Before commencing with the presentation, I would like to take a moment to introduce the members of the Transit Technology Review Board:

Dr. Alfred C. Ingersoll
Dean, School of Engineering
University of Southern California

"Dr. Ingersoll took all three of his degrees, Bachelors, Masters and Doctorate in Civil Engineering at the University of Wisconsin.

He served in industry and on the faculty at the California Institute of Technology prior to his present position. He is the co-author of two engineering texts.

In addition to being incoming President-Elect of the Los Angeles Section of the American Society of Civil Engineers and a Director of the National Society of Professional Engineers, Dr. Ingersoll has served as Western Vice President of the American Society for Engineering Education, and on various advisory boards to the State Legislature and State agencies.

Dr. George A. Hoffman
Lecturer in Transportation Engineering
University of California at Los Angeles

Dr. Hoffman received his doctorate in Science in 1950 from Harvard University and every since that time, both here and abroad, he has been associated primarily with the aerospace industry--in the design and analysis of advanced transportation vehicles, and on the alleviation of air pollution. He is the author of more than 30 associated technical papers.

Dr. Peter Barry S. Lissaman
Assistant Professor of Aeronautics
California Institute of Technology

Dr. Lissaman, a former British Subject, received his first Masters Degree in Mathematics at Cambridge University, England and then took his Masters of Science and Doctorate degrees in Aeronautics at Cal Tech. In England, he was with the Bristol and Handley-Page Aircraft Companies in design and research. Prior to becoming a member of the faculty at Cal Tech he was an Assistant Professor of Aeronautics at the U.S. Naval Post Graduate School in Monterey. He has been and is a consultant to numerous prominent aerospace and electronic firms and the U.S. Government.

The District Staff members who also served on this Board are:

John Curtis, Director of Planning
George Goehler, Assistant Gen. Mgr. For Operations
Richard Gallagher, Assistant Gen. Mgr. For Engineering

Dr. Ingersoll will make the presentation."

Dr. Ingersoll thereupon presented the Report of the Transit Technology Review Board of the District, entitled "Transit Technology as of June 1969," which he discussed in detail and illustrated by slides.

A copy of the Report is attached to these Minutes as Exhibit 5.

At the conclusion of Dr. Ingersoll's presentation, President Bill offered a resolution, which was read to the meeting by Director Newcomb, commending Dr. Ingersoll, Dr. Hoffman and Dr. Lissaman for their participation and great contribution to the District and to the community for their untiring efforts in the preparation of the Transit Technology Review Board's Report.

After discussion, on motion of Director Newcomb, seconded and unanimously carried, the following resolution was adopted:

RESOLUTION NO. R-69-223

WHEREAS, a special Technology Review Board has completed an intensive analysis on the status of mass transit technology; and

WHEREAS, representatives of leading Southern California universities have devoted their professional expertise and lengthy hours in the preparation of the Review Board's report; and

WHEREAS, the dedication to the cause of improved public transportation by Dr. Alfred C. Ingersoll, of the University of Southern California; Dr. George A. Hoffman, of the University of California at Los Angeles; and Dr. Peter B. S. Lissaman, of the California Institute of Technology, is of benefit to all the citizens within the Southern California Rapid Transit District;

NOW, THEREFORE, BE IT RESOLVED, the Board of Directors of the Southern California Rapid Transit District hereby commends Dr. Alfred C. Ingersoll,

Dr. George A. Hoffman and Dr. Peter B. S. Lissaman for their untiring efforts as Technology Review Board Members, and expresses the grateful appreciation of the community.
